WRITING ON PROHIBITION AGAIN

To the Editor of The News.

Dear Sir:
I am not through with prohibition or prohibitionists if you will be kind enough to publish my letters. However, I do not wish to answer Mr. A. W. Martin. I think we have answered each other enough. There is no profit in that kind of thing. In this letter I wish to speak of prohibition and to prohibiters.

My prohibition friends, you can pour out your vituperations as much as you wish; you cannot change my attitude toward this question by that method. I am standing, and pray that I always will stand, with those men who are trying to save Canada from the blight of class government, Bolshevism, anarchy and church rule. If you wish to throw logic to one side and resort to personal abuse, you can do so. I am not progressive enough to enjoy that kind of thing.

You prohibitionists in Red Deer wanted me to back my assertions by sworn testimony. Are you willing to swear to all of the statements you have made in the press (and I hold you, or at least one of you, responsible for that letter over Mr. A. W. Martin's name in the Oct. 18, 1922, issue of the Red Deer News)?

If you are willing to testify under oath to the truth of all of your statements, I must say you have altogether different views of an oath than I have. I hold that you can make oath to nothing except what you see, hear, taste, smell or feel. Now there are lots in this world that I know that I cannot swear to. I am confident there is a city in North America called New Orleans that I cannot swear to on the stand and testify under oath that there is! I never saw it. Would my oath be taken by the courts of Canada? I am confident there was a Provincial Police shot and killed the other day on account of this miserable bootlegging business. Could I swear to it? I did not see it.

I am confident that there have been bank robberies and men killed in the last few weeks in Canada, but I did not see it. I am confident that Canadians will become so out of patience with this whimsical law that they will make short work of it, but I cannot take my oath to it.

You (prohibitionists of Red Deer) wanted me to back my statements with an oath.

I will make a statement now: The number of inmates in the GOOD home-made bread has always been the chief food of the earth's sturdiest races. None of the breakfast foods or health foods can equal bread in nourishment. Good bread is the most digestible food as well as the cheapest.

Canadian penitentiaries has more than doubled since 1915. What do you think of that, Mr. Prohibitionist? Do you ask me to swear to that statement? I cannot; but Brigadier-General W. S. Hughes, superintendent of Canadian penitentiaries, can. I think at least that is what he told the twenty-second annual convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities, which met in Winnipeg on August 8th, 9th and 10th. Now you have been telling a trusting people that the prisons were being emptied and closed. What have you got to say about that? Do you dispute the statement? Do you ask me to come to Red Deer and make one to the truth. I cannot, and I would not if I could—it is childish to ask it.

If you will take the "Western Municipal News" of October, 1922, and turn to page 234, you will find my statement true. You have said that I have made wild statements that I could not prove. Please be kind enough and fair enough to specify one or two of these and give me a chance to furnish proof.

Now, a word to my friends in Red Deer: You who feel friendly towards me, although you may not agree with me, I wish you may read again that letter which appeared in the News over the name of A. W. Martin in the October 18, 1922, issue. The News for printing that letter; it gives me a better line-up on the matter, and consider the matter carefully? Was I wise to refuse to come to Red Deer to debate under the iron clad rules laid down by the challenge? Every statement must be sworn to, the challenge said; and then Mr. Martin's word in the News was his. Yes, one friend; and that "one friend" engineered the whole thing from start until finish. That "one friend" runs heavy to challenging me to come to Red Deer and "debate" me. We all remember that challenge to come to Red Deer to "debate" on Christian Science; and then, after the personal abuse in that letter, and ask yourselves what would have run up against him if I came to Red Deer to debate. That "one friend" is a mental giant, capable of being inflated to about 100 pounds to the square inch; he is strong on debate, but I did not come to Red Deer to debate.

He says it is a great comfort to get a Red Deer paper and find no letter from Great Bend, and that I am making an ass of myself. If he does not like my letters, he does not need to read them, but don't try to prohibit others from reading them. If I were living in Red Deer I would not go back and hear him preach, because he thinks that the birth and life and death and resurrection of our Saviour is a beautiful myth, and he holds that if the Bible is true then Christ was a bootlegger. I don't like to hear men stand in the pulpit and preach what I know that they hold to be anti-Christian ideas. But I would not prohibit others from hearing him, I hope his church is crowded every time he preaches.

Now I think that the "one friend" had better let the Red Deer papers run their papers themselves. They are making a pretty good job of it, and he can lead what he likes and leave the rest for someone else. He can trust the editors to stop my letters as soon as they think that they are damaging their papers. He should know that so far the Red Deer papers are not run in the interest of any one class, and that he is not obliged to read my letters any more than I am obliged to go to hear him preach.

Yours truly,
AMOS WILTON.

EXAMINER'S REVIEW OF PROVINCIAL MARKETS

Calgary, October 27.

Cattle—Beef—Prices on all beef at Calgary shaded off a little this week, with choices heavy steers, $4 to $4.50; choice light, $3.75 to $4.25; good, $3.25 to $3.75; medium, $2.50 to $3.25; common, $2 to $2.50. Choice cows, $3.75 to $3; good, $2.25 to $2.75; medium, $1.75 to $2.25; common, $1.25 to $1.75; canners, 75c to $1.25. Choice heifers will make up to $3.25. Bulls have been selling considerably better, with choice ones $2.10 to $2.60; good around $2.00, and common down to $1.00. Calves slightly better, with choice $2.25 to $2.75; common, $1.50 to $2. Feeder and Stockers—Good feeders still around $3.75, and planer ones, $3 to $3.25; stockers, $2 to $2.25. Stock heifers, $1.50 to $2.50; bulk at $2 to $2.25. Stock cows in a little better demand at $1.25 to $2. Best-Edmonton prices—Good steers have been holding and so have the choice cows, but the rough heavy steers are poor sellers. Choice heavy steers, $4 to $4.50; choice light, $3.75 to $4; good, $3 to $3.75; medium, $2.25 to $3.75; common, $1.25 to $2.25. Fat cows, $2.50 to $3.75; good, $2 to $2.50; medium, $1.75 to $2; common, $1.50 to $1.75; canners, 75c to $1.25. Choice heifers make up to $3.25. Bulls, not much quality, but choice would make $2; common down to $1.25. Choice heifers make up to $3.25. Feeder and Stockers—Heavy sales; unchanged prices, ranging from $2.50 to $3.75 on feeders, with bulk of sale $2.75 to $3.25; stockers, $1.50 to $2. Stock heifers, $1.50 to $2.25; not much movement. Stock cows slow at $1.25 to $1.75.

Shippers reminded all hogs sold on grade on and after Oct. 30.

Calgary had light receipts this week, with only a few sales made at $3. Today's arrivals brought $3.

Receipts at Edmonton not heavy, and sales holding at $3.

Heavy movement of feeder lambs through Calgary yards; butcher stock not too plentiful; lambs, $7.25 to $10; weathers, $6 to $7.75; ewes from $4 down.

Lambs at Edmonton will readily bring $10, when good and choice; a little over, possibly up to $10.50; ewes, $6 to $7; ewes from $5.50 down, according to quality.

Grain—Receipts at Edmonton better during the week, but there is a very serious shortage of cars through the West, which is not surprising when the very heavy movement is considered. Owing to the rush to get wheat out, there has not been much attention paid to shipments of oats and barley, and there are strong premiums being paid at Calgary.

Produce—Creamery Butter—Prices on car lots have been referred to $4 to $4.50 for No. 1, and $3.50 to $4 for No. 2; car lots, basis special, slightly weaker or $3.50 to $4. Dairy Butter—Weaker in line with creamery; $3.50 to $3.75 for fancy table at markets; No. 2 to $3.50 by dealers. Butter—Prices not lowered yet, but weakness in butter will have effect later, if it continues. Eggs—Market, firm. 25c to 32c quoted on extras; No. 1, 25c to 26c; some cars of storage shipped out. Poultry—Chicken lower, 10c to 12c; fowl, 8c to 10c; ducks, 12c; geese, 14c; turkeys, 12c to 20c. Live Dressed Chickens, 12c to 20c; fowl, 14c to 15c; old roosters, 8c. Too early to take chances on dressed shipments unless well prepared. Potatoes—Market still very slow, $1.15 to $1.18, Calgary delivery.

Hops—Market very quiet, with dealers buying at country prices, $10.50 to $17, according to shipping point; green feed, $10 to $11.

Hides—Market steady and prices unchanged. Green salted butcher hides, 8c; kip, 8c to 9c; calf, 10c to 12c; sheep skins, 25c to 30c; horse hides, $1 to $2. Horse hair, No. 2, 25c to 30c.

Furs—London sales somewhat irregular, and do not give present market values any increase.

Fire of undetermined origin caused damage of approximately $30,000 to the old Dominion Abattoir plant at London, Ont., Thursday morning.

The bodies of the three miners killed and entombed as the result of a cave-in in the pit of one of the mines of the Asbestos Mines, Ltd., at East Broughton, Que., Tuesday, are not expected to be recovered for several days.

Asked as to his views regarding government ownership of railways, S. W. Jacobs, Liberal member of parliament for George Rennie Carleton division, Quebec, declared before meeting of the Westminster Liberal Ladies' club, Wednesday, that he personally did not believe in government ownership of railways.

Denial of the assertion recently made that the drug habit was being largely to suppression of liquor traffic, Quebec, Monday, at Montreal, Tuesday, by Rev. J. G. Shearer of Toronto, general secretary of the Social Service Council of Canada. It was a resolution moved at the annual meeting of the Quebec provincial Social Service council.

With special permission from the registrar of Toronto, Mrs. Mary McDonald, aged 72, and Sarah McDonald, aged 61, both of Reading, Miss., were married at Windsor, Ont., Wednesday.

While Premier Duggan and his cabinet ministers decline to enter into public discussion of the mooted Northern Ontario secession, the general impression in political circles is that the agitation is confined almost wholly to the northwestern section of the province and principally to Port Arthur and Fort William.

As the result of an early morning fire which destroyed a residence on the outskirts of Winnipeg, Wednesday, Jacob Vonfard, aged 34, is dead, his mother is in the hospital suffering from serious burns, and Herbert P. Probert, a hired man, is also in the hospital.

Two-year-old R. Gertie died at Montreal, Wednesday, from scalds sustained when he upset a pan of boiling water over himself.

Australia will market her 1922-23 wheat crop under a system of voluntary pools organized in each of the four wheat growing states, Victoria, New South Wales, South Australia, and West Australia, according to a report received at Ottawa from D. H. Ross, Canadian high commissioner in Melbourne.

As a result of the investigations into the northern fire disaster now being held, it is stated in official circles that the Ontario provincial government will be asked to introduce drastic regulations for the prevention of similar disasters.

Prime Minister Bonar Law was unanimously adopted Thursday as the Conservative and Unionist candidate for parliament from the central division of Glasgow.

A proclamation dissolving parliament, was signed by King George at a privy council held at Sandringham, the royal estate in Norfolk, Thursday morning.

The British admiralty, it was stated Wednesday on high authority, has issued tenders for the construction of two 35,000-ton battleships.

Commander Bolt of the British cruiser Raleigh, which was stranded and lost off the Newfoundland coast two months ago, has been found guilty by court martial of negligence in connection with the loss of the cruiser.

Canada will be ably represented at the international convention of the W.O.T.U. to be held at Philadelphia, November 11 to 16. All provinces in Canada will be represented.

Mrs. Jane Gibson, who now claims she saw Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. E. H. Mills murdered on Phillip's farm, New Brunswick, N.J., has signed a statement in which she states she can identify the murderers.

James A. Stillman, wealthy banker, has started a new drive to reopen in the supreme court his unsuccessful fight to divorce Mrs. Anna T. Stillman and have her son, Guy, declared the offspring of Fred Beauvais, guide.

Pending a final interpretation of the statute by the supreme court, probably in December, enforcement of the United States prohibition law under the writ holding it to prohibit possession of liquor on foreign ships within the United States territorial waters will be upheld, according to the indicated policy of administration officials.

The Canadian Club of New York sent a cable to Bonar Law Thursday morning, expressing gratification that a Canadian had become prime minister of Great Britain.

The Athens newspapers announce that Prince Andrew, brother of former King Constantine, was arrested Wednesday at Corfu, on the charge that he contributed to the disaster suffered by the Greek army in Asia Minor.

Troops of the Red army, representing the far eastern republic of Siberia, were in complete possession of Vladivostok Thursday.

Italian Fascist are preparing to take over the government of Italy at any time now. Orders to hold themselves in readiness have been circulated by Benito Mussolini, head of the organization.

AS LIFE GOES BY
"What seems to grow faster to me as life goes by is the love and grace and tenderness of it; not its will and cleverness and grandeur of knowledge—grand as knowledge is—but just the laughter of little children and the friendship of friends, and the easy talk by the fireside and the sight of flowers and the sound of music."—John Richard Green.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION IN GREAT BRITAIN

The break-up of the Coalition Government, the resignation of Lloyd George and the impending general election have produced a situation in Great Britain which the one outstanding feature appears to be confused uncertainty. The war to a great extent destroyed the old party divisions and made obsolete or forced a solution of certain fundamental questions, while bringing to the fore others in their place. The old political parties have lost hold of their more or less traditional creeds to take their place. The economic situation of the country has changed, and is very critical. Great social changes have taken place. The land of Britain has largely changed or is changing hands. Yet in hardly any sphere is there much sign of a new shaped policy or any great constructive leaders to carry it out.

In such a situation when principles are lost sight of or obscured, almost inevitably personalities have taken their place, and the personality which stands out far above all others is that of the late Prime Minister, Lloyd George. Possibly by reason of his character, and still more by reason of the great events with which he was associated to so dominant a position, he is inevitably one of the great figures in the history of the country. As to his war record there is little division of opinion. Perhaps the pacifists and pro-Germans may venture to criticize it, but such criticism is merely the result of baffled hostility to the policy which fought Germany to the end, and refused to compromise. The vast majority of the British people regard Lloyd George as the statesman who has done more than any other deserves the credit for winning the war, and rightly they are inclined to extend that credit to his post-war policy, deficiencies of which it is hardly possible to deny the existence. It is only now when the difficulties and dangers of the country have grown to such proportions as to threaten a complete catastrophe that the opposition to Lloyd George has become strong enough to force him to resign.

It is difficult to form a clear estimate of a character which has provoked such extremes of admiration and hostility, but the key to it would seem to lie in this fact: Lloyd George is essentially a man of first rate energy, driving force and courage, but of second-hand and even second rate ideas and brains. Throughout his career his strength has lain not in originality in policy but in his skill in estimating the more or less articulate wishes and aims of the mass of the nation, and giving to them vehement expression in word and action. It was this power which explained the hold he obtained on the masses in his pre-war days. He alone appeared to be able and willing to lead them at all costs to the attack on the German. He was right, or wrongly, as the unfair privileges and monopolies of the wealthier classes. Whether his policy in the matter was wise or prudent, they were neither able nor anxious to decide. They knew only that their lot was hard, that they saw others who were less fortunate than they, and here was a man able to voice their grievances, ready to do so in face of the storms of abuse from the powerful classes he was assailing, and prepared to carry out a policy which was admittedly designed to remedy those grievances or to destroy those believed to be responsible for them. Therefore the masses were devoted to Lloyd George. Then came the war, and at first he hesitated, and was inclined to listen to those who advised the cowardly and dishonourable but supposedly profitable policy of neutralism. Fortunately circumstances and the stupidity of the German leaders forced the country to intervene in the war in spite of his and others' hesitation. Once the war was begun, and he realized that the spirit of the nation was overwhelmingly behind him, he quickly adapted his attitude to suit the position and became the fiercely energetic driving force, the minister he inevitably came to be known as the "carrying out" of the clearly defined and single national aim—the defeat of Germany. As such he was successful. He carried out the front and replaced the warlike and hesitant Asquith with his personal encephalic and energetic influence. Men like Lord Milner might be, almost certainly were, Lloyd George's superiors in brain power and initiative, but none could express as he could the unwavering national purpose of victory, none could inspire and drive on as he did the agents of that purpose, from generals to munition workers. The victory in the end was gained, and in the moment of that victory Lloyd George's work was done, and his virtue from the national standpoint was exhausted. When he came to the terms of the armistice in the House of Commons, he used words which were of far less effect from that moment on. "So ended," he said, "the greatest war in the history of the world. It was not ended; it was a great, decisive victory in the field had been won, but a peace equally decisive had been made, the war was not ended, the danger was not over. Yet with those words the nation was lulled to sleep. In a moment the national attention was diverted from the enemy to its own wounds, its needs, its own pleasures, and from that moment the lack of clear national purpose, the confused and conflicting internal friction and intrigue. The problems of the peace were enormously difficult; the task of higher skilled and technical knowledge of foreign countries. The average Britisher was hopelessly at sea, and Lloyd George with no policy or ideas of his own and no clear national purpose to guide him, instead of the moment the uncertain wavering opponent who has from that time been the ally of his former allies. The result is only too obvious. The prestige of his war success has been used to his disadvantage. He is a superlatively modest man as to be able to realize his deficiencies for the situation. He is a man of high moral character, but he is not a statesman. The United States soon withdrew from active participation in the European affairs. Great Britain remained enormously the most powerful of the allied or enemy powers. The British premier had no settled policy of his own and would not delegate his power to any of his subordinates. The result was a clear no clear leading in the very difficult situation. The end of it was a series of blunders, and the great war, which may only narrowly be averted, will be followed by bitter hostilities, still standing perilously on guard, one nation against another, the still in danger of economic collapse and chaos. For that position Lloyd George must bear much of the responsibility. Because of it his government has fallen and he is fighting an election in the remarkable position of a man without either a policy or a party.

The international situation has inevitably dominated the internal situation of Britain. Until Europe settles down to peaceful work and trade, British industries must remain in a depressed state. British unemployment must be widespread, and the questions of taxation and the means of livelihood must overshadow all else. For the time being other questions are in abeyance. Ireland has been a topic of controversy. The people of Great Britain are watching the struggle of the Southern Irish government against the Republic with a mixture of disgust and indifference and grim satisfaction at seeing Irishmen reviling and killing one another instead of Englishmen. Tariff questions are in such a state of confusion that no party seems to put forward a clear-cut policy in regard to them. Labour questions are a matter of indifference to the masses. The situation caused by the coal strike may induce the mass of the workers to shrink from further experiments in extreme demands. Nevertheless, as far as there is any dominating issue, it is the question of the responsibility of whether the reins of government are to be in the hands of one of the old parties or in those of the Labour Party, hitherto untied in the responsibility of office. Against Lloyd George, the contest, for if Lloyd George inclines to make common cause with the Labour Party as is not at all impossible, he may give it a prestige and a brilliancy of leadership, which might carry it into power. He is not, however, now a poor and struggling man, and his sympathies are likely to be less ardently on the side of the workers than of old. Extreme democratic or socialistic measures rarely make a successful appeal to a man of assured financial position such as he now is. The present Labour leaders seem to be of the opinion that the most active workers of the Labour Party are men of high education from the English universities who have attached themselves to that party because they believe that it must inevitably attain power sooner or later, and they aim at giving to its counsels the knowledge and restraint which might well be lacking in men who have not had the opportunity of education, and wide experience. If so, none of these men have so far developed any striking personality or appear likely to become notable in the leadership of the party. The old Liberal party seems unlikely to make much impression in the election. Its leaders are men who either failed in the war or took no prominent part in its conduct. It has no inspiring programme and little to say but somewhat dreary and colourless platitudes. Again, if it could recapture Lloyd George as its leader, its position would greatly be improved, but the personal relations of Asquith and Lloyd George make this most unlikely. On the whole it seems that out of a very confused situation there is likely to come a Conservative Party with a programme of cautious foreign policy and non-partisan businesslike home policy, which will secure a small majority in Parliament; a numerous Labour opposition; a very small and ineffective Liberal party; and a handful of group of merely personal adherents of Lloyd George, whose action in Parliament cannot be foreseen but may yet be decisive for or against any of the other parties. After the years of disturbance and excitement, in face of obvious dangers abroad and difficulties at home, it seems not unlikely that the majority of the nation will support the Conservative party as that most likely to give it a policy of stability and order, and to calculate to make for safety and quiet and a gradual recovery from the wounds and exhaustion of the war.

BIBLE ADDRESS AT ST. LUKE'S

Following the precedent set at the last lecture, the Revd. Arthur Murphy, M.A., addressed the young people for a few minutes on Thursday evening last, previous to the delivery of his scheduled address.

Pointing his message on Ephesians 2:10, "For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath prepared for us, that we should walk in them." The speaker pointed out that God has a plan for every life, and that that life is meant to be a service to God. The great architect of each life is God, whose greatest construction is man.

Obey His injunctions, follow out His specifications, and success will result. Jacob was a mature man when his father Isaac's eyesight failed. Feeling that the point of death was near, Isaac desired to make his will, so he called for Jacob, his elder son, and desired him to go on ahead of him as usual, and to bless him before he died. He deputed Jacob, his brother, instigated by Rebekah, by deceit and craft, to cause Isaac to bless him instead of Jacob. These distinct lines were laid by Jacob and an act of gross deceit was practiced before Isaac's suspicious eyes.

Having thus supplanted his brother, Jacob was the direct object of Isaac's intense hatred, and he vowed that he would murder his brother Jacob. To avoid his brother, Jacob escaped and journeyed to Padan-aram, 450 miles through a part of the great desert, and over the river Euphrates. At last, a place 45 miles distant from Beersheba, he lies down with his cloak around him and a stone for a pillow under his head, and dreams of a stairway from earth to heaven with the angels ascending and descending upon it, and above the Lord saying, "I am the God of Abraham and of Isaac. . . and thy seed shall be as the dust of the earth, and behold, I am with thee and will keep thee." Genesis 27:1-15.

Jacob now becomes a changed man. He dedicates his substance and himself to Jehovah. He sets up a pillar and calls the place Bethel—house of God. Jacob now meets with Rachel, Laban's daughter, and asks for her hand. Laban forces him to work for 14 years with him before he grants his request. Jacob now leaves Laban, taking with him his wives and children and all his stock, and returns to his own land. Hearing that his brother with 400 armed men is approaching to attack him, he is greatly afraid and earnestly prays for help to Jehovah. See Genesis 32:1-12. This is the first recorded prayer in the Bible. In it we notice three things: (a) God's promise is recalled by Jacob. (b) The note of unworthiness in it. (c) The element of thankfulness in it. There was a marvelous answer to this prayer. Jacob, whose intention doubtless it was to destroy not only Jacob but all the members of his family, and then seize all his stock, in reality approached Jacob as a penitent brother and showed him and his greatest consideration and filial kindness. This love incident shows the power of prayer. The word "I" should not be used in prayer, as it presupposes a lack of faith and if there is not faith in prayer it lacks an essential value. Now another outstanding event in Jacob's life is his wrestling with a mysterious angelic visitant wrestles with him and eventually prevails by his own strength and with a finger. This is one of the Theophanies of the O.T. It is Christ in visible form who wrestles with Jacob. The patriarch's name hereafter is changed from Jacob (supplanter, cheat, liar, deceiver) to Israel (Prince with God). Jehovah is known as El Shaddai (the all sufficient One) to Jacob.

The next lecture will be given to-morrow (Thursday) evening at 8 p.m. in the church. Subject, Joseph.

M. D. OF GOLDEN WEST

The seventh regular meeting of the Municipal District of Golden West, No. 371, Council, was held at Sylvan on October 21, in the Municipal office. The meeting opened at 1.30 o'clock, with Mr. Rogers, Reeve, presiding, and Mr. McVicar, the Mayor, as the Secretary and the Secretary in attendance.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The Department of Municipal Affairs of October 2, the Wild Land tax, by Order-in-Council, September 5, the right of redemption of land in the year 1921, shall expire on October 31, 1922.

The Department advised under date of August 26 that as proceedings were being carried forward by Mr. H. Milton Martin on behalf of the City of Red Deer for the cancellation of taxes and the cancellation of plans of certain subdivisions, these should not be included in the proceedings under the Tax Recovery Act, 1922. The Department advised under date of October 2, the Wild Land tax, by Order-in-Council, September 5, the right of redemption of land in the year 1921, shall expire on October 31, 1922.

The Registrar, Land Titles Office, advised that by special Order-in-Council which went into effect on July 27, a fee of $1 was charged for registering Certificates of Redemption. The Red Deer Hospital advised that Mrs. A. W. McVicar was admitted as a patient on October 19.

R. C. Blakely wrote under date of September 27 that he was moving on to his farm, No. 15-28-4, and had no road to go by. He asked the Council to consider opening up the road to his farm. The matter was left to the Reeve to investigate.

W. J. B. Welton wrote stating that he had accepted a position in Vancouver, B.C., and was leaving Red Deer early in November, and wished his resignation as auditor to take effect at once. He expressed appreciation of courtesies received from the Council and the auditor for the year.

The Council were unanimous in expressing regret that it became necessary to accept Mr. Welton's resignation, and decided that steps be taken as early as a date as possible to secure the appointment of another auditor.

J. A. Jackson, secretary of the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts, notified the Council that the fourteenth annual convention would be held in Calgary on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, November 1, 2 and 3, and asked the Council that delegates be appointed to attend.

The Secretary-Treasurer of the Village of North Red Deer sent bills paid for rates on behalf of Mrs. Robert Dempster as follows: C. W. Hamilton, for groceries, $4.80; Red Deer Advocate, for advertising, $2.80; Red Deer News, for advertising, $2.80.

Moved by Mr. Rogers that the item of $8.80 for groceries be paid. Motion carried. The Council did not feel that the accounts for advertising should be paid by the Municipality.

Mary Mary Johnson, of Markerville, wrote advising that she had between 40 and 50 acres broken on the S.E. of section 6-37-5, and wished the quarter withdrawn from Wild Land tax.

Any action in the matter was deferred until the next meeting on account of the absence of Council member Stricker, who would be able to advise in the matter.

The Soldiers' Settlement Board, Calgary, advised under date of September 22 that the S.W. of Section 32-28-4 had been secured for cultivation during the year 1919, and on that ground appealed from the Wild Land tax for that year.

Moved by Mr. Rogers that the arrears of Wild Land taxes on the S.W. 32-28-4, in the sum of $4.50, and applying to the year 1919, be cancelled. Carried. The accounts, as presented, were found correct and ordered to be paid. A. McVicar, the owner of the west half of section 15-38-15, appeared before the Council and made complaint that a ditch on the road grade had charged the water on his land, thereby injuring the land. The Council, after hearing his statement of the matter, decided, on motion of Councillor Olson, that the members of the Council now present inspect the grade in question. The meeting was adjourned for one hour for that purpose at 4.30 p.m. On the re-assembling of the Council at 5.30 p.m. it was decided unanimously that the ditch complained of by Mr. McVicar was not on the road grade, and also that it did vary for the proper maintenance of the road. Moved by Councillor Olson that the date of the next meeting be left to the discretion of the Reeve. Carried.

Plan To Erect Plant For Converting Bituminous Canadian Coal Into Coke

Calgary Suggested as Site for Industry Proposed by Federal Government as Means of Making Canada Independent of U.S. Coal Supply.

Ottawa, Oct. 26.—On the assumption that the converting of bituminous Canadian coal into coke may be the remedial method of extending consumption of this coal in Canada, the government is now considering erecting a plant in Alberta, probably at Calgary, and another in Nova Scotia. The latter is being considered as a means of the government to devise means of securing independence from the U.S. anthracite fields. Experts have been assigned to report fully on the proposed to erect the converting plant. The lighter bituminous coals of Blount, Saskatchewan, is being surveyed by other experts with a view of determining the extent of the success of that method.

It is declared that the government is working on the evidence given by the fuel committee two years ago when it was realized it was stated by experts that the coal was not a satisfactory substitute for anthracite and that so far as transportation cost was concerned it would prove economical.

Calgary Good Location

The Nova Scotia plant would be erected at Sydney. While no one would venture a suggestion as to a good location in Alberta for such a plant, Calgary would seem a likely site. It is stated here that the government means to go ahead with the project. The project is being constantly recurring. It is believed the situation is one demanding attention and action. Another as immature plans made so far suggest the building first of the Sydney plant, it is pointed out that this would only serve central Canada and that another would be as necessary for the west to supply coke for that part of the country beyond the Great Lakes.

A VAST IMPROVEMENT

The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal starts its first winter campaign for subscriptions a vastly improved paper over what previously looked like perfection. To those who have read that great weekly for years it would seem impossible to make improvements. Nevertheless the publishers seem determined, regardless of cost, to make the Family Herald and Weekly Star better. Every department is being strengthened and new features added. In fact the Family Herald and Weekly Star during 1923 will be of such value that no Canadian home can afford to be without it.

"Business as Usual"

A good slogan, to which we lay no special claim, but it applies correctly to our present condition, for, notwithstanding a few quiet days, we are maintaining our volume of sales, as compared with previous years. October business is greater than that of last year, and we are out to make November show an increase.

Our enormous stocks and our exceptionally attractive prices should make this easy.

To those who find it difficult to come to town regularly or frequently, we extend a special invitation to visit our store and examine our stocks carefully. It is so much more satisfactory to handle the goods you are selecting than to trust to luck for quality, as is unavoidable in selecting from catalogues.

We carry only a good grade merchandise, and we are not afraid of any competition in values.

SHOES FOR THE KIDDIES

"The Ideal Shoe for Children" HURLBUT are eminently the most comfortable shoes for children—and they are the lowest price per day's wear.

CLOSING OUT SALE

READ THIS, IT WILL INTEREST YOU!

It is surprising the number of people who ask us if such and such an article is going to be reduced at the sale. WE CANNOT MAKE IT TOO EMPHATIC. THE PRICE ON EVERY ARTICLE IN THE STORE WILL BE REDUCED. We want to sell out, and we want to sell out quickly; the prices are cut to a point where anyone who wants an article, or ever will want it, can't afford to go without it. The lower the prices, the faster the sale, and we are surely out for a fast sale. Don't miss it! Only a very small portion of our stock is listed here, we haven't mentioned, even, our Kitchen Ranges. Are they reduced? Of course they are. Oh, you can't afford to miss this sale.

Sale Commences at 9 o'clock, Saturday, November 4

Terms of sale will be strictly cash. No exchanges, no phone orders and no deliveries. We simply won't have the time.

CHANGE OF BUSINESS

I wish to take this opportunity of thanking our customers for their patronage during the time that I have been associated with Mr. Hopworth in the North End Grocery. I have sold my interest to R. M. Porter, Montreal, an experienced grocer, and I bespeak a continuance of the patronage we have enjoyed, as my esteemed partner, Geo. Hopworth, will still be connected with the business.

SCIENTIFIC WORK

Scientific instruments are necessary for accurate work in grinding lenses to correct optical defects. H. J. Snell has recently added an up-to-date axle grinder, from which can be obtained the prescription contained in any lens. It is only necessary to send your broken lenses to us, and they will be replaced promptly and accurately. We grind our own lenses.
